LANDIS PLACES BAN ON FREED "BLACK SOX" PLAYERS

High Chieftain of National Baseball Says They Are Off Diamond Forever

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—The "Black Sox," despite their acquittal of charges on conspiracy to throw the 1919 world's series to Cincinnati, will never play in organized ball again.

Judge K. M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball, made this emphatically clear in a statement issued today. He declared no players who associate with a "bunch of crooked gamblers" are wanted in the national pastime.

"Regardless of the verdict of the jurors," Judge Landis said, "no player who 'throws' a ball game; no player who undertakes or promises to throw a ball game; no player who sits in conference with a bunch of crooked players and gamblers where the ways and means of throwing games are planned and discussed and does not promptly tell his club about it, will ever play professional ball.

"Of course, I don't know that any of these men will apply fod reinstatement, but if they do, those above are of these men will apply for reinstatebe enforced.

HARSH WORDS

"Just keep in mind that, regardless of the verdict of juries, baseball is entirely competent to protect itself against crooks, both inside and outside the game."

"Buck" Weaver so far is the only player to announce that he will fight to get back into organized baseball. Through his attorney, Weaver will present a petition signed by thousands of fans, asking that he be reinstated with the White Sox. "Buck" confidently expects to be working under "Kid" Gleason again in a few days.

Eddie Cicotte, who admits 37 years and is probably about at the end of his baseball career, announced that he would return to his home in Detroit, but did not say what his plans were.

GANDIL'S PLANS

Gandil said he expected to get hold of some club and manage it, indicating he did not expect to play again in the big leagues. Williams said he would play semi-professional baseball and Joe Jackson asserted he was through with oganized baseball. He said he would emain in Chicago, operate his billiard all, play a little "sand lot" ball and intimated he had received an offer or two to shine before the footlights.

The verdict of the jury, it is believed today, resulted from a point in Judge Friend's instructions. Judge Friend instructed the jury that in cases where conspiracy to defraud the public and the baseball owners is charged, it is up to the State to prove that the acts were done by the players with specific intent to defraud.

COMISKEY SILENT

"I have no comment to offer on the outcome of the baseball trial," said Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the White Sox. "However, Cicotte confessed to me that he had helped to throw the world's series of 1919, and also implicated the other seven players, and until such time as Cicotte can explain to me that confession, I will have nothing to do with him or them."

TURKEY PERVERSION

KENNETT, Mo., Aug. 3.—John Smith's turkey gobbler has become a "mother." He decided he wanted to "set." So fixed in his mind was the obsession that he was a "female of the species," his owner failed by every conceiveable means to break the freakish desire of the male bird.

And so the gobbler "set." Now he takes his brood to roost every night and aids them in scratching for food when the whistle of "Turkey Uniontown" announces meal time.

Taylor of 506 North Jackson street has word from his son, Pearson Taylor, who is in the radio service of the government at Fort Bliss, Tex., to the effect that he has been offered a station in Mexico, and that he will likely leave soon to take his post. He is now employed in one of the biggest wireless stations in the United States, but prefers to take advantage of what he considers promotion at better pay, in the service of Uncle Sam in Mexico.

Great American Women Will Be Remembered

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 3.—The oft-repeated question as to who were America's greatest women will shortly receive a final answer, when the Women's National Foundation incorporates in its club house here a feminine Hall of Remembrance. While the concrete objective of this foundation, which was inaugurated some weeks ago, by a group of social leaders in Washington, D. C., is to provide an all-partisan meeting place for the women of America and an all-inclusive clearing house of information on their activities, it also aims to act as a source of inspiration and a record of achievement for their sex. The Hall of Remembrance is designed to fill these last named needs.

As now proposed this hall is the conception of Mrs. George Barnett, wife of Major-General George Barnett, United States Marine Corps, and chairman of the Executive Committee of the Woman's National Foundation, who submitted it to Mrs. C. C Calhoun, foundation president, by whom it was approved and placed before the board of governors.

Mrs. Barnett suggested that in the hall, which would be the main auditorium of the foundation, there be erected forty-eight pillars representing the forty-eight States. On these pillars would be inscribed the names of the women who from pioneer days to the present time have helped to make State history and, incidentally, make America. These names would be selected by a commission in each State consisting of prominent women educators and historians. The governors would be invited to nominate the commission, whose findings would be finally passed on by a special national committee of four or five distinguished citizens. The only restriction in the selection of names will be the exclusion of all women now living.

To Build Temple of Triumph

As Mrs. Barnett's plan received instantaneous approval from the governors of the Foundation, as well as from Mrs. Calhoun, it is expected that the State commissions will be appointed soon and the work of historical little difficulty in choosing the heroines of pioneer days. Virginia, for example, will include the name of Pocahontas, the saviour of Jamestown Colony, and Mary Ball, mother of George Washington. North Carolina will probably be equally unanimous concerning her Virginia Dare. South Carolina's Rebba Motte stands out undisputed. There is Betsy Ross, in Philadelphia: Molly Pitcher, in New Hampshire, while Kentucky has the hallowed name of Nancy Hanks. When one comes nearer the present days, however, the perspective is bound to be less sure on the value of individual achievements, and it is here that suggestions will need careful examination and solid substantiation from the proponents.

In order that this Hall of Remembrance, with its columns of famous names, may announce to the passer-by, as well as to those present within it, its significance for the selx, Mrs. Calhoun has proposed that it be embodied in a classic temple of triumph surmounted by the triumphant figure of a woman.

FIGHT FOR CITY MANAGER REACHES CRITICAL STAGE

Council To Decide Upon Merits of Four Strong Candidates, Who Claim Consideration on Basis of Good Records and Influential Support

Appointment of a new city manager, or the reappointment of City Manager T. W. Watson, may be made tomorrow night by the City Council, it was declared this morning, following sensational stories in the Los Angeles newspapers that Mr. Watson had been dismissed.

Both Mayor Spencer Robinson and City Manager Watson denied that any such action had taken place.

"Under the new charter of course," explained the Mayor, "all appointive positions were declared vacant. The council now must either reappoint the present staff or appoint others to take their places.

"Applications for all of the city offices not elective are being received now and will be considered by the City Council. There is no truth in the report that Mr. Watson has been asked to resign or that he has been discharged. Neither is there any truth in the report that the office of city manager is abolished by the new charter or that his work will be taken up by the city comptroller."

William L. Reeves, of Pasadena seems to be the strongest contender for the office of City Manager, according to the applications now on file with City Clerk Sherer.

PASADENAN APPLIES

Mr. Reeves has the backing of a number of well-known residents of Glendale and influential city, county, state and federal officials. In his application he declared he is 49 years old, married, a resident of Pasadena for twenty years, serving there as city electrician for eight years and two years as city commissioner. In politics he is a liberal Republican, a member of the Congregational church, a total abstainer, Mason, Good Templar, an engineer by profession, a graduate of Stanford and an administrator of municipal problems, familiar with all branches of cost construction. He pointed to a record of efficiency and economy at Pasadena. He is a veteran of the Philippine campaign and a captain in the late World War. In civil service he stood first on the list of forty five for coroner of Los Los Angeles and stood high for probation officer in the county. He says he is the owner of considerable property in various parts of the state and acquainted with realty values. He was assistant principal of Lincoln High School in vocational work and resigned to become city commissioner of Pasadena.

He referred to H. P. Goodwin, John E. Rockhold, Miss E. P. Andrus, principal of the Lincoln High School; Sheriff W. I. Traeger, of Los Angeles, Charles R. Bruger, County Civil Service Commissioner, Federal Judge Benjamin T. Bledsoe, Judge Charles S. Burnett, Judge J. P. Wood, of Los Angeles, State Bank Commissioner J. S. Dody, of Sacramento, Philip T. Dodson, city trustee of Pasadena, and C. W. Koiner, city manager of Pasadena.

OTHER APPLICANTS

C. N. Murphy, of the engineering department of Los Angeles is another candidate. He stated he might be persuaded to move to Glendale to "give your city the benefit of my experience and knowledge gained through 14 years service in Los Angeles." He set forth a list of positions filled since 1908, including accounting, auditing, inventoring, and a variety of engineering accomplishments. He is supported by Los Angeles councilmen, Ralph Criswell, W. C. Mushet, City engineer H. J. McGuire, James A. Endicott of Brand boulevard, E. R. Werdin, of Los Angeles Paving Company and D. L. Goss of Sycamore Canyon.

D. H. Lyford, another applicant thirty four years old, is a graduate electrical engineer of Minnesota, who was trained by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, by the Pittsburgh Electric Railroad, and served the Cleveland Railroad Company as assistant mechanic and spent sometime in valuation work on public utilities in Washington D. C. He did his bit in the World War, serving two years as lieutenant and executive officer in France, building camps and aligning expert. Since 1920 he has been in the gas division of the Union Oil Company.

George W. Bercaw, of the Good Government League, of Glendale, who has lived in the city eighteen years, he stated, filed a brief formal application, declaring he saw no reason why he could not handle the work satisfactorily with the cooperation of the City Council.

The record of the present incumbent, Mr. Watson is briefly, that he has been in the city employ for fifteen years. During that time he spent seven as trustee and was president of the board for two terms. He has been the city manager for several years. During the recent campaign there was no criticism of his work by any of the candidates.

SEEK OTHER APPOINTMENTS

Applicants for city attorney, thus far received by the city clerk, are from Ben P. Woodard, of Los Angeles and Glendale, recommended by W. T. Craig, attorney of Los Angeles; T. F. McBryde, attorney, of Glendale, and Owen C. Emery, of Glendale, who has been fifteen years in Glendale, seven of which he practiced law here.

Mrs. Hattie E. Gaylord has applied for appointment as head of the Welfare Bureau, setting forth her fifteen years residence in Glendale.

George Marsac, of San Francisco, has filed for city engineer, stating he is office engineer of the San Joaquin Light and Power Company.

James T. Browne has filed the only petition for appointment as chief of police. His petition contains the names of more than a hundred residents.

Thus far only one appointment has been made under the new charter, that of Mr. Harlow Harrison, city comptroller. The appointment however is only temporary. All other employes are holding over awaiting the action of the council.

SINN FEIN LEADER AND CRAIG APART

(By International News Service)

DUBLIN, Aug. 3.—The cause of the Sinn Fein's silence regarding the Irish peace negotiations is the fact that negotiations are proceeding between Eamonn de Valera and Sir James Craig, premier of Ulster.

It was reported that de Valera has been sounding Sir James Craig since last Friday on the reservations and guarantees which the Ulster Unionists desire.

Though de Valera and the Ulster premier have not met in person, their negotiations are said to be proceeding by means of couriers.

AGED RESIDENT OF GLENDALE PASSES TO HIS REWARD

Veteran of Civil War, Loved Citizen, Harvey C. Binns Dies at Age of 82

Harvey C. Binns, octogenarian, died last night at his home at 110 East Maple avenue. He celebrated his eighty-second birthday last March, and was very happy in his family and religious life, having been an active member of the Christian church for many years. Of his five children, four reside in California and, with their families, were present at a reunion at the Binns home last Sunday.

Four years and eight months he served his country and flag in the Civil War, as a member of Company E, 28th Illinois Infantry. He was a member of the G. A. R. and a frequent attendant at the meetings of the local post.

Born in Illinois, the greater part of Mr. Binns' life was spent as a farmer in that state and Nebraska. Feeling the urge to go farther west, he migrated to Colorado and then to Southern California, where he passed the last five years, four of them in Glendale.

At the home when the summons came were his wife, Mrs. Sarah Binns, and his daughter, Mrs. Francis Beidelman. Another daughter, Mrs. W. J. Harris, with her husband and children, left Tuesday noon for Alaska. A son, Harvey C. Binns, jr., accompanied by his wife and children, left Glendale Monday for Sacramento. Fred Binns of Klamath Lake and Ben Binns of Hollywood, are also sons.

ADVENTISTS MAKE GENEROUS GIFTS

Approximately $85,000 was donated to the foreign missions by the close of the Southern California Conference of Seventh Day Adventists, Sunday night at Alhambra, by the estimated 4,000 people attending the sessions of the conference making it one of the most successful conferences and campmeetings ever held in the Southland. A little less than $5,000 is needed now to reach the goal of $90,417.60 set by the churches of the conference for the mission field.

The Sabbath school donations amounted to $50,087.59, with addition pledges of $9,500.

WHY GLENDALE SMILES

Glendale was all smiles this morning, the reason being the reduction of the price of gasoline at all service stations. A cut of two cents a gallon was announced.

GRAND VIEW PEOPLE WANT GLENDALE MAIL SERVICE

Residents of the Grand View district want their mail matter served to them through the Glendale postoffice. The district was annexed to Glendale about two years ago and the people there feel they are entitled to have their mail distributed through Glendale, instead of through Burbank, from which point they now get it.

Recently they consulted City Manager Watson, and he in turn communicated with Postmaster O'Brien of Los Angeles, who replied as follows:

"The proper way to secure the desired change would be to have the interested parties sign a petition, asking for the change in mail service, and to forward same to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Rural Mails, with the request that the change be made."

City Manager Watson forwarded a copy of Mr. O'Brien's letter to the Grand View district today, together with the necessary petition, so that the residents may now proceed along the lines suggested.

SELZNICK'S STAR AT THE GLENDALE

A different picture is "Poor Dear Margaret Kirby," the Selznick feature, starring Elaine Hammerstein, which is showing today at the Glendale Theatre. The eternal triangle does crop up, but it is merely incidental, and is used only to serve as an additional obstacle in the heroine's thorny path to happiness.

In adapting this picture from the popular novel of the same title by Kathleen Norris, Lewis Allen Browne, who is given the credit for the picturization of the story, has skillfully caught the sardonic humor and dramatic intensity of every situation.

"Poor Dear Margaret Kirby" is written around a young society matron who suddenly finds herself destitute with an invalid husband on her hands. Her erstwhile friends desert her with the accelerations of rats deserting a sinking ship.

In spite of the formidable obstacles which arise, however, Margaret manages to keep her head above water, and in the end her enemies are vanquished, the villain scorned, and the love of her husband regained, with the future lying sunny and prosperous before them.

It is a splendid story, the acting is excellent, and the supporting cast chosen with exceptional care.

Movie fans will have an opportunity to get acquainted with their favorites today. The bill that is being offered will include a reel of "Screen Snaps" showing glimpses of the intimate home life of some of the celebrities of filmdom.

There is also a comedy called "The Tourist" which brings Aubrey into action. As the finale to the show it proves a fitting medium to send the audience "away with a smile."

HEROIC RESCUE

(By International News Service)

GUERNEVILLE, Cal., Aug. 3.—Jack Meehan of San Francisco is the hero of the summer colony here today. Late yesterday Miss Eva Collins, pretty San Francisco stenographer, swam beyond her depth in the Russian river. Hearing her cries for help, Meehan, fully clothed, plunged in and went to her rescue. The girl threw her arms about Meehan's neck and both went down. Meehan struggled to free himself and succeeded after both had gone down a second time. James Monahan reached Meehan and the girl with a canoe and, although nearly exhausted, Meehan succeeded in placing the unconscious girl in the canoe, both reaching shore safely.

TOM FURST, JR., GUEST OF HONOR

Mrs. Tom Furst was hostess at a prettily appointed family luncheon, which took place Tuesday afternoon at her home, 505 North Jackson street. Her son, Tom Furst, jr., was the real guest of honor, and the object of much attention on the part of the guests.

Centering the table was a large French flower basket to which was attached by streamers of pink and white tulle, a smaller basket. Both were filled with pink and white flowers. These two baskets were gifts received by the mother and baby soon after his advent, and for that reason, given a place of honor.

Covers were laid for Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, Mrs. W. E. Evans and daughters Misses Katherine and Mayme Lee, who had motored up from Hermosa Beach, where they are spending the summer; Mrs. Lucius A. Phillips, Geraldine Phillips, Annie Ewell Phillips, and Mrs. M. E. Smith, of Los Angeles; Mrs. F. W. Pigg and son, Billy Pigg, of this city.

A social time followed the luncheon and photographs of the baby and of the entire group were taken.

THE SIGN OF SATISFACTION

MEN ARE GETTING MORE critical than ever before on the shape of their hosiery: they are as particular as women. They examine them with the utmost care and frequently refuse to accept those which are not carefully fashioned! But the Wilson Bros. "Chain Knit" label on half hose, whether of cotton, mercerized lisle, fibre or pure silk, is the sign of sure satisfaction and long wear! ROBINSON'S MEN'S SHOP of 116 S. Brand boulevard especially recommends the Wilson Bros. "Chain Knit" lisle sock at 50c in which they have a full range of colors! There is also a wide variety of sizes and colors in the Wilson Bros. Fibre Silk, of which Robinson's are offering two pair for $1.25! The all pure silk Wilson Bros. hose with the Rave! Stop, in a large range of colors and sizes from 9½ to 12, is most unusual at $1.15 per pair! In texture and appearance the "Chain Knits" are unexcelled, yet the spliced heels and toes and double soles are even more appreciated by the discriminating man!

JAPANESE OPPOSED TO CHINA BEING AT CONFERENCE

(By International News Service)

TOKIO, Aug. 3.—The United States, by including China in the invitation extended to the powers for a disarmament conference, indicated a desire to eliminate Japan as the power of supreme importance in Asia, according to the opinion of Marquis Okuma, one-time premier in Japan, in an interview here. The inclusion of China in such a meeting, the marquis said, was incomprehensible and makes necessary consideration of whether or not the Japanese delegates to the meeting should be willing to abide by a majority rule on Far Eastern affairs.

"Japan now occupies a position of supreme importance in the Far East," said Marquis Okuma. "With Japan's close proximity to China and Siberia, both rich in unlimited natural resources, it is quite natural that the United States should take any measure possible which might eventually deprive Japan of her present position. Japan must be prepared to firmly oppose any measure which is incompatible with the established interests of Japan, and if such a matter as the decision by a majority is taken up by the conference, the Japanese delegates should be ready to withdraw at once.

"First of all, the present ministry should retire in Japan. Then Japan should begin to prepare properly for this all-important conference. It is quite likely that China will demand the repeal of the 21 articles, and we must note here that the repeal of the Sino-Japanese agreement would be followed by another activity of the Chinese government at the expiration of the lease term at Darien and Port Arthur in 1924. Japan's people should realize the importance of this matter and prepare."

NEEDLEWORK FOR SAN FERNANDO FAIR

Miss Eva Daniels, who is Glendale chairman of the needlework department of the San Fernando Valley Fair, which is to open at San Fernando on September 12, and Mrs. Ella Richardson, general chairman for Glendale, attended a committee meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Steere, at Van Nuys, yesterday.

Mrs. Harry Huston, of San Fernando, general chairman of the women's department, conducted the meeting. She displayed a diagram showing the locations assigned to the various displays to be made in that department, and outlined the plans for the display of exhibits to the best possible advantage, stating that there would be no entrance charge for exhibits. She also announced a mass meeting of all committees and all persons interested, to be held at the Burbank Women's Club house, Tuesday afternoon, August 9, at 2 o'clock. She also directed attention to the daily lectures to be held in the women's department. At the close of the session, refreshments were served by Mrs. Steere.

Miss Daniels states that $6000 has been donated to the fair by the county and that an appropriation is expected from the state.

MANAGER WATSON AS CITY BOOSTER REIGNS SUPREME

City Manager Watson has written to Dr. Hubert Work, First Assistant Postmaster-General urging the claims of Glendale for the establishment of an independent postoffice here. In part, the city manager's letter follows:

"Glendale is more than a mere outlying district of the City of Los Angeles. This city occupies a beautiful valley of its own. It is separated from the Los Angeles community by a large stretch of river bottom that is practically uninhabited. The city has now reached a population of about twenty thousand. It is growing at the present time at the rate of four or five thousand increase in population per year. Beautifully situated as it is about ten miles north of the City of Los Angeles it is destined to be one of Southern California's most prosperous and beautiful suburban cities. At the present rate of growth it will only be a few years until it will have a population of from fifty to sixty thousand people.

We Are Progressive

"The people of Glendale are progressive. Their desire is to do everything within their means to develop the city and to make it one of the best residential communities in the land. They are desirous that Glendale shall have an individuality of its own. An independent postoffice in our opinion is absolutely indispensable to the fullest development of Glendale in accordance with the ideas of its citizenship. It is hoped that the postal authorities may be depended upon to assist the people of this city in realizing their ideals.

An Economy Hint

"The argument is advanced that the reestablishment of an independent postoffice in Glendale will increase the cost of mail service to this city and that in the interest of economy the present conditions should continue. Economy is all right, but economy with insufficient service is not the economy that the public is looking for. We are persuaded that the people of Glendale are looking for that economy in their postal affairs that is the result of careful planning and efficiency in operation that will give them adequate and acceptable service."

WILLIAM GRIFFIN'S BUSINESS EXPANDS

A year ago William Griffin was conducting a small plumbing business at his home, 131 West Garfield avenue. Strict application to his trade, combined with fair dealing, caused his business to enlarge so rapidly that a larger plant became necessary. His keen vision foresaw the advantages of a location along San Fernando road, so he erected a large building at 806, where Windsor road intersects that important thoroughfare. Pacific avenue runs into San Fernando road just north of this point and the three streets are well traveled. The expansion of Mr. Griffin's business has continued in the new location, aided by his judicious use of printer's ink and now he contemplates erecting a bungalow court, on lots adjoining his business house.

SIERRA STAMPEDE AT HEMET SEPT. 5

Hemet, the progressive little town at the foot of old Mt. San Jacinto, will pull off a real rodeo meet September 5 and 6, and has sent invitations broadcast to the people of Southern California. A paragraph from the letter sent out by Brother John E. King of the Hemet News, gives this information:

"The Sierra Stampede at Hemet on September 5-6 is to be one of the greatest of Wild West celebrations ever attempted in Southern California. We are going to have Indian games and races, all sorts of broncho busting, wild horses, wild steers, exhibitions by cowboys and cowgirls and all the entertainment usually associated with a celebration of this character."

GLENDALE FIREMEN BAG TWO-POINT BUCK

The Glendale firemen, Chief Lankford, George Meyer and Ed. Fairfield, who spent two days hunting in the vicinity of Pine Springs, back of Frazier mountain, report the bagging of a two point buck, weighing about 100 pounds. Fireman Meyer brought the deer down.

The Chevrolet Agency is now on Broadway, east of Jackson avenue and ready for business. Fisk & Tarr, the Chevrolet dealers in Glendale, took possession of the new quarters today.

KIDDIES PROTEST

BOSTON.—Profiteers in ice cream here a few days ago found themselves in much the same position as that occucpied by General Gage, British commander of Boston at the time of the Revolution.

The children of the city marched in what was to them a monster parade, in protest against the prices charged for soda and ice cream. History tells of another parade, probably the only other organized march of protest held here by children, when the youngsters of generations ago marched up the same street to request permission from General Gage to slide down School street.

RUDIE PLANS TO SUBDIVIDE TRACT

O. G. Rudie, who bought the Wm. Woods five acres on West Broadway a few years ago, and last year remodeled the old house on the place into a duplex bungalow, will subdivide the remainder of his trtact. He endeavored unsuccessfully to get all the other owners of acreage in the section to deed land for the extension of Ivory and Hawthorne to San Fernando road, so he adopted another plan. He bought all except 65 feet of the Harvard frontage, south of his tract and his sister-in-law, Miss Anna Gunnarson of 532 West Broadway joined him in the project to extend Kenilworth avenue across their holdings to Harvard. Each will have a number of desirable lots facing on the new street and it is probable the whole section will be built up ere long with fine residences.

MANY MOTORISTS TAGGED BY POLICE

Several visiting and resident motorists, have learned that it pays to "light up" when they drive along the streets of Glendale at night. The following were "tagged" last night for operating their cars without tail lights: W. H. Butterworth, 511 East Seventh street, Los Angeles; Joe Madariaga, 132 Ohio street, Santa Paula; Ygnacio Auintaner, Burbank; G. Holloway, Maryland and Palmer avenues, Glendale; L. F. Sale, Lancastor; George H. Hiles, 376 West 36 street, Los Angeles, was "tagged" because his auto had only one operating headlight. Two motorists were charged with operating cars without the proper type lenses in their headlights. They were B. Camillo, 424 Fernando Court, Glendale; and W. Hays Hennefer, Van Nuys, who was also driving without his operator's license card.

Mrs. Smith, district deputy grand President was present.

PAVING OF DORAN STREET FINALLY AGREED UPON

Arrangements are rapidly being completed for the improvement of the streets in the vicinity of the Doran street school. The Thom interests have agreed to the paving of Lexington and Doran streets from Glendale avenue west to the present paving, a distance of about two blocks. These interests have also requested that the paving of Everett and Geneva streets be included in the same proceedings. The proceedings are being held up temporarily until the decision of the school board as to whether the school authorities can improve their share of the roadway, is reached.

If the school board does not see its way clear to include in the budget the amount necessary for this proposed street work, which is $3600, half of each of the streets touching the school property will be left unimproved.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY—A cocky big man is almost insufferable, but a cocky little one is impossible.

NATURE STUDY

A 15-year-old boy appeared before a congressional committee the other day to mak a brief talk. The committee has charge of the affairs of the District of Columbia and the lad came to tell the members why the children want appropriations to continue nature study in the schools. His message to Congress was that the love and study of birds and trees and animals will fill "any regular fellow with a sense of justice." Men grappling with problems of world importance pause for a few minutes to listen to the boy. He may have exaggerated his case a little, for it depends somewhat on how the studying is done, but the incident is worthy of note.

Some students, like Darwin and H. G. Wells, for instance, see in nature a monster which retards the progress of civilization. Only as man conquers nature does humanity advance. While, on the other hand, the poets, Wordsworth, Shelley, Villon and a galaxy of others, see in nature the sweet music of the universe. It depends on who studies nature as to whether he will feel a sense of justice.

But, after all, the study of nature need not be based on the value of justice acquired therefrom. What one learns is of less value than the fact that one does learn. It fills the mind with a thousand queries and makes of it an active agent. It is far better for boys and girls that their minds be filled with something worth while than to be wasted in idleness. One thing is certain, the boy or girl who is taught nature by an able teacher will learn the great truths of life as in no other manner. The boy's message to Congress might well be directed to adults everywhere.

MAKE THE BEST OF IT

Just because the order of things as decided on by your boss does not suit you is no reason why you should not enter heartily into his plans.

You should realize that your employer has the right to do what he chooses about his place of business, irrespective of whether you are pleased.

It is possible you resent a certain order which you have to follow, and you think it would be much better if you would do it another way.

Don't be too quick to say so.

Try to get both sides of the matter in your mind first.

If you are convinced that it does not work out right and you have the proof, then go to headquarters and present your case, not in the way of fault-finding, but with the desire to bring about an improvement.

If your boss if the right sort of a man he will listen to you.

But, because you have suggested changes, do not expect them to be at once adopted.

You cannot expect that your boss is always going to take you into his confidence as to why he decides on certain courses.

You would not do so were you in his place.

If Japan doesn't suspect the United States of plotting against her, it is because she is not listening to what a lot of American alarmists have to say.

Strange things may come to pass, but it seems unlikely that a wash tie and a piece of raspberry pie will ever be wholly compatible.

A congressman wishes to know what we get out of the Philippines, anyway. The real question is not what, but whether.

"Bridegroom shot in stomach; will recover"—Headline. Perhaps he was hardened by eating the bride's biscuits.

GRAVE AND GAY

After being in the family for a number of years, Mary Jane announced her approaching marriage.

"I hope," said the mistress, "that you have given the matter serious consideration."

"Inded I have, ma'am!" said the girl. "I've been to two fortune tellers and a clairvoyant, and dreamed on a lock of his hair, and been to one of them asterologers, and they all says 'Go ahead.' No, I ain't one to marry reckless-like, ma'am."

Teacher: "Johnnie, can you tell me what they do with ferry boats when they're late?"

Johnnie: "Dock 'em."

During a flood a few years ago the river reached the power plant about 3 a. m., cutting off the power.

The operators in the telephone exchange called the wire chief, who started to the office in his flivver, and found his lights out. Before reaching the office he was stopped by a police officer, who asked him why he had no lights. Doing a little thinking, he told the officer:

"Of course, my lights are out, the juice is out all over town."

The officer studied a minute and said: "By golly, that's so; go ahead."

The Acid Test

During a campaign preceding the [illegible] it was suggested that, since he posed as a good business man, he might be willing to tell just what a good business man is.

"That's easy," he explained. "A good business man is one who can buy goods from a Scotchman and sell them to a Jew—at a profit!"

"What became of your new girl clerk?"

"We had to let her go," said the head of the firm. "She had no head for business."

"Too bad."

"Yes, she parked her gum on the adding machine and her powder puff in the cash register."

"I know someone that's got cat eyes," said little Dorothy with a wicked little smile on her red lips.

"Who?" said her gray-eyed mother and aunt in reproachful unison.

"Johnston's cat."

"You're looking pale tonight, my dear."

"Am I? Then do tell me something that wil l give me a little color."

Mrs. Bacon: "This paper says Kansas this year will reap four crops of alfalfa."

Mr. Bacon: "I shouldn't be surprised."

"But what is alfalfa?"

"Why, alfalfa is—why, its—a sort [illegible]

Creamed Dried Beef in Croustade

Remove crusts from bread, cut in slices two inches thick. Cut a cube from the center of each slice leaving the walls of the case ¼ inch thick, make a cut in one side of the case and slice through under this cube, and remove it from the case. Toast the sides and top of the case.

Dip the edges in melted butter, then in chopped parsley. Fill croustade with drief beef, creamed, and garnish with curley celery.

STUDIO NEWS AND GOSSIP

Lester Cuneo in Westerns

Lester Cuneo is to be starred in eight five-reel Western pictures. The first picture of the series, now in the cutting and editing stage, is titled, "Blue Blazes." The Doubleday Production Company is the financial power behind the enterprise. Francella Billington played opposite Cuneo in the filming of "Blue Blazes."

First Chinese Film

The first Chinese-made motion picture in the history of the cinema industry is nearing completion in a Los Angeles studio. The producing company is known as the Wah Ming Motion Picture Company and it is financed by a Chinese merchant, Quong Foo. The director and one actor are Caucasians. All the other members of the company are either Chinese or Japanese. The lone Caucasian actor is Tully Marshall. The leading woman is Lady Tsen-Mei, who is thoroughly Americanized, having been reared and educated in this country and who has had a remarkable stage experence. For several seasons in the east, Lady Tsen-Mei was the prima donna of companies producing "The Geisha" and "The Mikado" and next season she is due to appear on the Orpheum circuit in a musical sketch. She is the daughter of a wealthy Chinese merchant of Philadelphia and is as pretty as she is talented.

"The Lotus Blossom" is the title of the picture. It is founded on Chinese legends which were old when Christ was born. It is thoroughly accurate in every detail, includes some interesting customs and traditions of the Chinese, and is in the nature of a patriotic appeal, internationally directed, to make the nations of the world know and feel that China is awake, vibrant, ambitious for progress. The cost of the picture is $100,000.

Doris May Now a Star.

Doris May, former Thos. H. Ince co-star with Douglas MacLean, is to be starred on her own account by the Hunt Stromberg Productions, which will release through Robertson-Cole. Miss May is conceded to be one of her most popular and brilliant of the younger cinema personalities. Her recent marriage to Wallace MacDonald, well-known leading man and now director, was one of the cinema events of the past six months.

New Goldwyn Pictures

Two big pictures soon will go into production at the Goldwyn studio in Culver City, Calif. They are "The Sin Flood" and "Grand Larceny," the latter a drama of marriage and disillusion by Albert Payson Terhune. "The Sin Flood" is the story of a crowd in the grip of fear from the pen of Henning Berger. Frank Lloyd will direct.

POPULAR SCIENCE

The first successful attempt to measure stellar distances was made in 1833 by Bessel, who determined the parallaxv of 31 Cygni, a little star of the sixth magnitude, which had attracted attention by its great proper motion of 5 seconds of arc a year. At the beginning of the present century, 40 or 50 parallaxes had become known, and in recent years progress in measurement has become very rapid. Greenwich observatory reports the determination of the parallaxes of 50 stars a year, while some American observatories are doing even more. American astronomers have in preparation a catalogue giving the parallaxes of 3000 stars, and it is expected that within a few years the distance of all stars visible to the naked eye in the northern hemisphere will have been made known, as well as those of many fainter stars. The parallaxes are determined by both trigonometric and spectroscopic methods, while a third method can be applied to many double stars.

In total color-blindness, the eye distinguishes only light and dark; in the more common or partial color-blindness, red is mistaken for green, or black for brokn, and in a third form only primary colors can be made out, often with confusions of blue and violet. The new spectrometer of F. W. Eldridge, green measures the portions of the spectrum appearing to be monochromatic and the limits of visibility at each end of the spectrum. The average eye sees six definite colmatic parts of the spectrum; and more or less imperfect color vision separates out fewer single color patches than eighteen. Exceptional eyesight detects seven distinct colors with as many as twenty-five monochromatic patches.

A curious new menace of alien origin has been revealed by the nation-wide weed survey of the United States department of agriculture. This pest, most serious in California, but spreading rapidly to Arizona and other states, is a "puncture vine," and its peculiar destructiveness consists in puncturing the tires of bicycles and automobiles. In California, it is reported to have caused 70 punctures in one tire, and it is estimated that in one county half of all punctures in bicycle tires and a large proportion of those in automobile tires, are due to this weed. The plant is the tribulus terrestris of botanists, but it has been variously known as the ground burr nut, caltrop, automobile weed, and "Devil's Burr." It is a native of Southern Europe. The fruit, or burr, splits at maturity into five sections and each of these, equipped with a pair of spines a fourth of an inch long, lies on the ground in such a manner that one of the spines always points upward, ready to enter the first tire that comes along. The weed was probably introduced by burrs in the fleece of sheep, great damage to wool being another of its harmful effects.

Briguettes, in the form of cones pounds, are made by a new Danish machine from the chips from turning, boring and filing in ordinary machine-shop work. The material is forced into molds by compressed-air power. The briguettes can be employed in the proportion of 15 per cent and upward, for ordinary iron castings, or for special castings, such as engine cylinders, and are claimed not only to produce tough and compact castings of greater strength than when pig and scrap iron are used alone, but also to provide a convenient mea[illegible] of adding silicon and mang[illegible]

'ROUND THE SPORT CIRCLE

WITH JACK VEIOCK
International News Sporting Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Miracle managers of the last few years have come from behind the bat. And the National League has had all of them.
Starting back in 1914 George Stallings, a catcher, though never a great one in his playing days, led the Braves from the ruck to the world's championship. Stallings was haled as a "miracle man" right off the bat.
In 1915 Pat Moran took a handful of castoff players and drove the Phillies to the National League pennant, and the following year your Uncle Wilbert Robinson raised the Dodgers from the trailing class to National League champions, repeating with them last year. Robby brought Brooklyn back into the spotlight after sixteen years of obscurity. In his day he was one of the greatest of catchers.
Fred Mitchell, who aided Stallings at Boston in 1914, made champions of the 1918 Cubs. He had a big money bag back of him, yet it was his managerial ability that landed the pennant. And Mitchell was a catcher in bygone days.
The 1919 Reds, under Moran, won the first National League pennant flown at Cincinnati in something like half a century and emerged from the clouded world's series champions of the universe. Regardless of the cloud cast over that now infamous series. Moran was something of a miracle man in Redville, and, like his predecessors in the miraculous business, Moran came up from catching ranks.
Will 1921 produce a miracle man in George Gibson? Pittsburgh fans believe it will. Gibson, of course, has a nicely balanced ball club, but he has been performing miracles with it in the way of morale and considering the opposition he has to contend with, the winning of a pennant by the Pirates will be something of a miracle after all.

Now That Jock The Hutch and Long Jim Barnes Have Copped the Cups, What Are They Going to do With 'Em in These Arid Days?

Cunningham, the Giants' new outfielder from Seattle, certainly has a big incentive to make good with New York. The kid has the fans with him, and this means everything, especially a youngster.
This lad is a little fellow, smaller than Kauff. He is fast as an antelope, earmarks of a good hitter. But there is doubt about his readiness for a regular job in the big show. For one thing, his throwing from the garden is off color. He may have a good arm, but in the games he has played so far he hasn't proven it.
Pegging to the plate or the bases is an art that young outfielders should pay more attention to. Many of them come up with nearly everything else but the ability to peg and the baseball sense to throw to the right sack with men on the bases. There's no excuse for an outfielder making the wrong peg, as a rule. It is just as much an evidence of bone as it would be for a catcher to peg to third to catch a man stealing second.

Joe Humphreys, Dean of Metropolitan Announcers From the Ringside, Always Has a Comeback for the Boys. Joe Recently Had Occasion to Appear in Soup and Fish. "Oh, Joe," Piped a Professional Kidder, "Take Good Care of It. I Want to Rent It Tomorrow Night." "I Wish to Announce," Humphreys Went On, "That the Train for the Wise Crackers Leaves in Ten Minutes."

The Yellow Jackets, at Georgia Tech, are going to be minus the services of Coach Joe Guyon next fall.
Guyon, whose ability as a coach can scarcely be rated second to that of his class as a player, has given up the coaching job at Atlanta because he could not keep it and play professional football with Jim Thorpe's Canton Bulldogs at the same time.
Last year Guyon used to travel back and forth between Atlanta and Canton, or wherever the Bulldogs were playing, over the week-ends. But the traveling wasn't a pleasant thing and the expense was so great that Thorpe suggested he get a coaching job in the middle west, where he could be nearer the stamping ground of the famous Bulldogs. Guyon agreed to the plan. The Yellow Jackets then agreed that geography is all wrong.

SPOOK TANTRUMS TERRORIZE TOWN

(By International News Service)

MANCHESTER, Mass., Aug. 3.—When a spooky, angry, great white ghost stands across the street from you in the wee sma' hours and shakes his fist,—why, naturally you're nervous.
And when a great, white, heartless spirit grins in your doorway and knocks down your nine best drinking goblets and starts playing tunes and records on your pet grafanola, and chases your cat, and breaks your clock and runs off with half the works and knocks between your partitions—why, you send for the police.
This is the way a ghost has been treating three lone, lorn women here in Manchester. The women are Mrs. Mabel Morrill, Mrs. Abe Allen and Miss Frances Stewart. Now the ghost as Miss Stewart more than a little surmises, is her dead grandfather, George F. Bosher, late wealthy real estate operator, of Manchester.
In the meantime nearly all Manchester, except the police, now believe in ghosts, and the terrified women get their sleep by day and wonder how long they're going to be haunted by night. Mrs. Allen says she has fainted twice and Miss Stewart fourteen times by count. Mrs. Allen avows they are going to vacate the house.

IMPROVE ATHLETIC FIELD

Trustees of Glendale high school recently voted to expend whatever sum might be necessary to drain and grade the athletic field of the school, and also to prepare a portion of it, north of the mechanical arts building, for the exclusive use of girl students. A special court is being laid off for handball, volley ball, tennis and other athletic work. The work will be completed by the time school opens, September 12.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.
When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.
Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

AID WIDENING PLAN

City Manager Watson has been notified by the Board of Education of Glendale that the board has included the portion of the school property at Brand boulevard and San Fernando road, necessary for the widening of that intersection, in the easement, along with the portions of land owned by the Pacific Electric railway and Harry White at that location.

SHIRLEY MASON AT PALACE GRAND

It is not many months since Shirley Mason, in "Her Elephant Man" made her debut as a William Fox star, yet already she has several really big successes to her credit. The latest is "Flame of Youth," a production of high merit that comes today to the Palace Grand.

Miss Mason's success is due primarily, of course, to her pleasing personality and her cleverness as an actress, but a large share of credit is due to William Fox for giving her roles that enable her to display adequately her fine talents.

"Flame of Youth," even more than "Her Elephant Man" and the rest of them, gives her opportunity "to be herself." She plays the part of a little Belgian peasant girl who falls in love with a famous artist. Little Bebee runs the gamut of faith, hope, false love and dissillusionment before true love comes; and the part calls for great versatility.

Yet there is more than the charm of Shirley Mason in "Flame of Youth." It is a dramatic, moving story, ably directed by Howard M. Mitchell, who has made many successful Fox films. There is great fidelity to detail in the scenes in the Belgian village and in the Paris studio. The picture deserves to rank among great film romances.

Buster Keaton in "The Scarecrow" proved so mirth propvoking when recently shown at the Palace Grand Theatre that Manager Jenson has arranged for a return engagement of the picture today. "The Scarecrow" is considered Keaton's best.
